*Isa has recently changed their twitter username from @Isa_L_Quetzal to @Isa_H_Quetzal
*They have also changed their twitch username from isa_l_quetzal to isa_howl_quetzal

I did not want to have to do this but considering Isa is not willing or capable of taking account for their actions and wants to hurl misinformation, gaslight and try to lie to people - here we are. I am hoping that this serves as another reminder to them about what was done wrong and how they need to be better about tempering their actions and respond to things in a way that are not inflammatory and cause damage and harm to others. I have maintained that they generally have good intentions but their execution is very bad and this causes issues.

In the end I don't expect this to solve anything but as to stand as yet another record of their misdeeds and actions including but not limited to:

> Violating consent, Doxxing, Witch Hunting, Harassment, Emotional Manipulation, Unnecessarily causing issues

For context I was a member of the "Strays" server mostly from inception - before the server was actually called the Strays or ran by Isa. Shortly after I was asked to be a mod. I had considered myself a friend of Isa's and had given them guidance on things in regards to not crossing certain boundaries when it came to warning people of legitimate issues vs "clique" or "witch hunting" behaviour. I also worked with the other staff to resolve issues and help create rules to mitigate any future issues / concerns. I left in Early Nov (2025) due to time constraints and a personal concern of a recognized pattern of issues caused primarily by Isa's continued actions. Even afterwards I tried to help them when things arose - despite leaving I still had considered them a friend.

Here are just some of the things that I have witnessed or been involved in. Some items are included solely to establish timelines of when things have happened. This is just a small amount of the data available. I will update this document over time as necessary and if other factual things are brought to me that people would like to share.

Note that screenshots and message logs have not been edited for content outside of having been redacted as much as possible to deidentify those involved outside of myself and Isa where possible or removing non relevant pieces. In cases where deidentification was not possible, permission has been obtained by those involved to include the information.

Document History

July 22,2026	Original document
July 24,2026	Documentation of potential exposure of a minor to inappropriate content.
July 29, 2026	Added image showing Discord recorded timestamp of message edits.

August 11, 2026	Added profile screenshot of discord profile showing incorrectly identifying as a minor. Added notes and info regarding lack of consented publication of NSFW art to socials and Rule34. Added documentation on ongoing harassment by Isa and updated closing.
October 26, 2026	Added documentation of continued serial falsehoods and threats spread by Isa and their associates

---

March 2025 - Repeated private contact with a minor

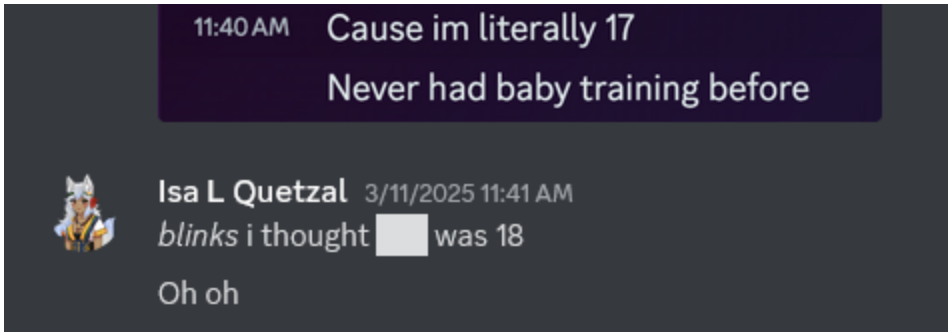

The original Strays server was always intended to be an 18+ space. The staff did what they could to enforce the rule if an issue arose without requiring strict validation. The exception was the NSFW section which was marked in Discord as being an adult area. Access was only granted to those with a specific role that required agreeing to being 18+ and a separate NSFW ruleset specific for the channel.

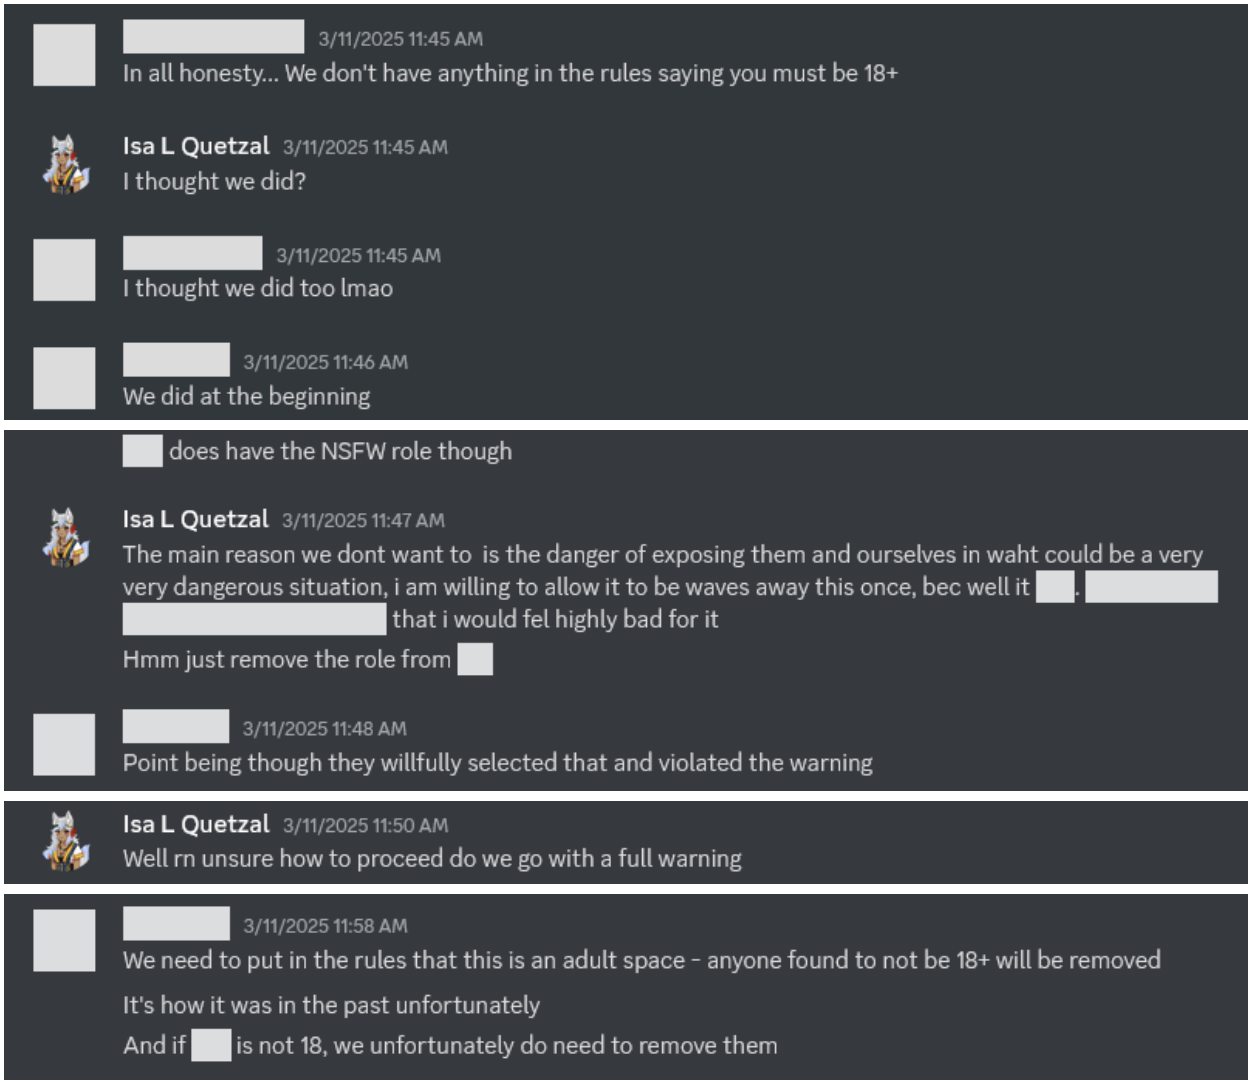

Things were set up so only the administrator could invite people to the server who was responsible for vetting those chosen, which at the time was Isa.

One incident stood out as a bigger issue though. This individual was found to be a minor by self admittance of something they said during a conversation in the general chat. Action was taken to determine if they were truly under 18 and it was confirmed. During discovery it was found that the server rule notifying users of the 18+ rule on join had gotten removed due to a technical issue.

However, all those involved in the server were aware it was an 18+ space, so any invites were made with the knowledge that a user needed to be an adult.

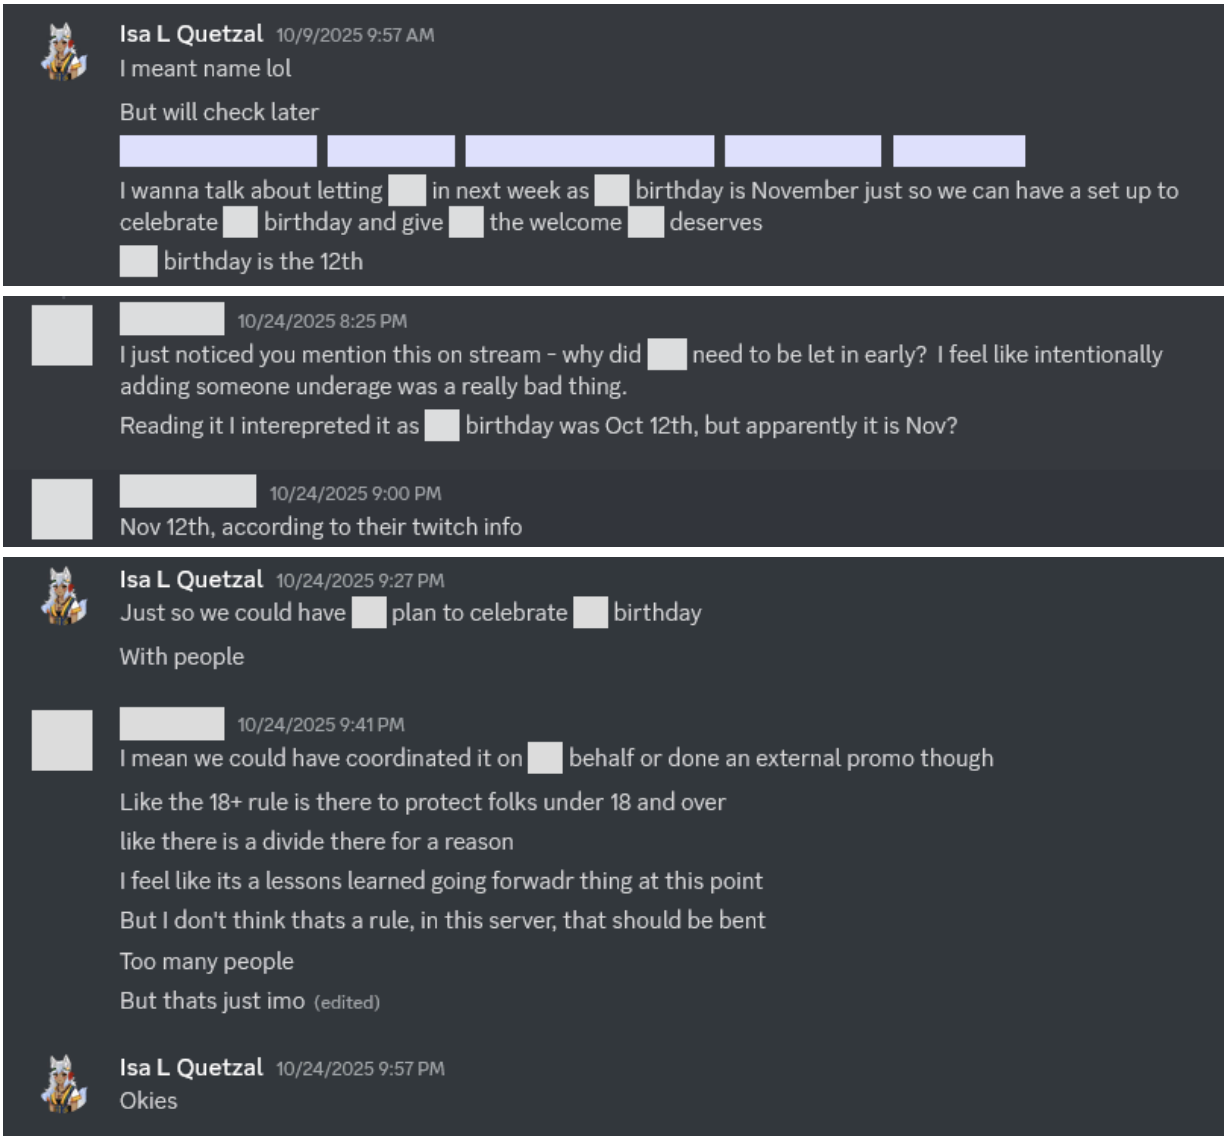

During discussion it was determined also that this user had violated the rules by confirming they were 18+ and accessed the NSFW section. While discussions of how we needed to handle the situation on notifying and removing them Isa seemed reluctant to remove them from the server.

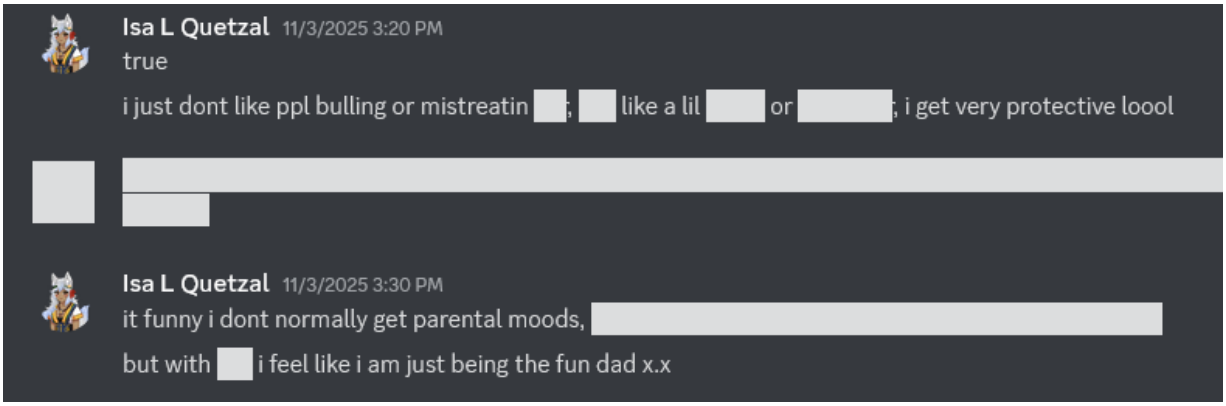

They were removed from the server and a post was made explaining that the server was 18+ and that they were removed. The rules were additionally corrected to add the missing text. It is not clear why there was a question as to why a minor would be allowed to remain in an 18+ server.

Some time later, nearing the removed minors birthday Isa sent a message to the mods asking what our opinion was about letting them in early. Confusion was made at the date since the 12th was mentioned (it being Oct 9th) and most folks missed the “November” in the first half. Isa re-added the person before all of the admin staff replied and no consensus was made on this. This was later questioned and pointed out that it was a violation of the rules to have someone underage in the server and Isa’s response was simply dismissive.

It was shortly after this incident that I left the group on Nov 1st since this and other emerging behaviors from Isa were not anything I wanted to be associated with.

Since March 3 when Isa discovered that this person was a minor, contact was not broken off. They routinely mentioned this person in conversations both private and public. Recent public tweets support that they have remained in some form of contact since first meeting. While this does not constitute any immediate evidence of any wrong doing, it does seem inappropriate given the other allegations of disturbing adult related behavior such as coercing and influencing people into getting unwanted NSFW art. Also Isa has personally bragged about having tons of NSFW art of many vtubers and constantly pushes awareness and posts said art on their lewd channel https://x.com/isalewdquetzal / https://x.com/isalewdhowl and other places - sometimes without acquiring consent or knowledge of those involved.

Isa L Quetzal 11/3/2025 3:20 PM
true
i just dont like ppl bulling or mistreatin ; like a lil or ; i get very protective loool
Isa L Quetzal 11/3/2025 3:30 PM
it funny i dont normally get parental moods, but with i feel like i am just being the fun dad x.x

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal

[redacted]
Today we continue with [redacted] and [redacted] role in my life, as we continue down memory lane and the people who have influenced more. Meet during the early days of my streaming career when the support network known as strays assemble was created, [redacted] was one of its earliest

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal

targets, as the at the time very very small streamer was just starting, with no more than 25 followers, i had assemble a gathering of ppl to help [redacted] reach affiliate and support [redacted] by adopting the dork into my family and my life. having since then become a main stay in my life

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal

[redacted] is one of the brattiest most airhead, but also sweetest kindest,m most hard working people i ever meet when i meet [redacted] i told [redacted] from day one that [redacted] would be destined for much bigger things than me and anyone else, as i knew from day 1 [redacted] was born with talent that

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal

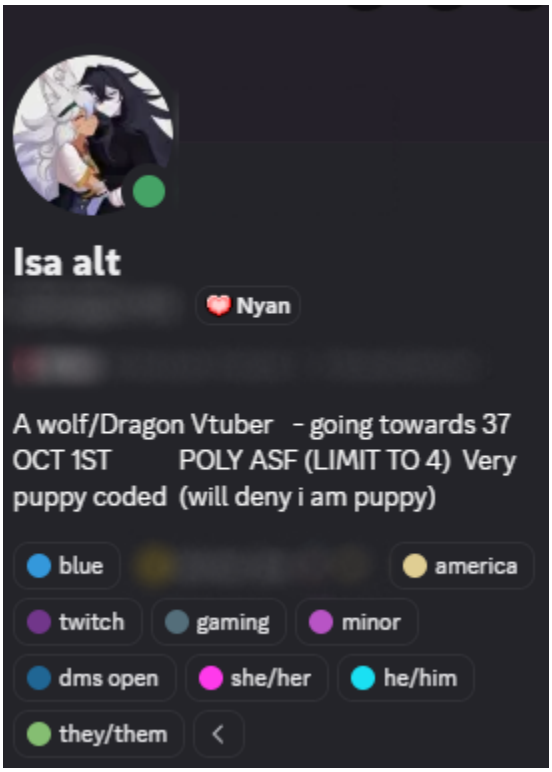

few could ever hope to match. [redacted] is a gem no longer hidden as [redacted] now starts to soar, and i am glad to be the one who can truly say beyond all I TOLD YOU SO i alwys have had faith and always been good at seeing what [redacted] never saw, you are a gem [redacted] RISE MORE I LOVE YOU LIL [redacted]

8:31 AM · Jul 7, 2026 · 79 Views

1

Coincidentally Isa is apparently still in this person's discord server, and I was asked to include this screenshot showing that they are tagged as identifying as a "minor" via the roles. Their profile description only recently updated to state their upcoming birthday and age.

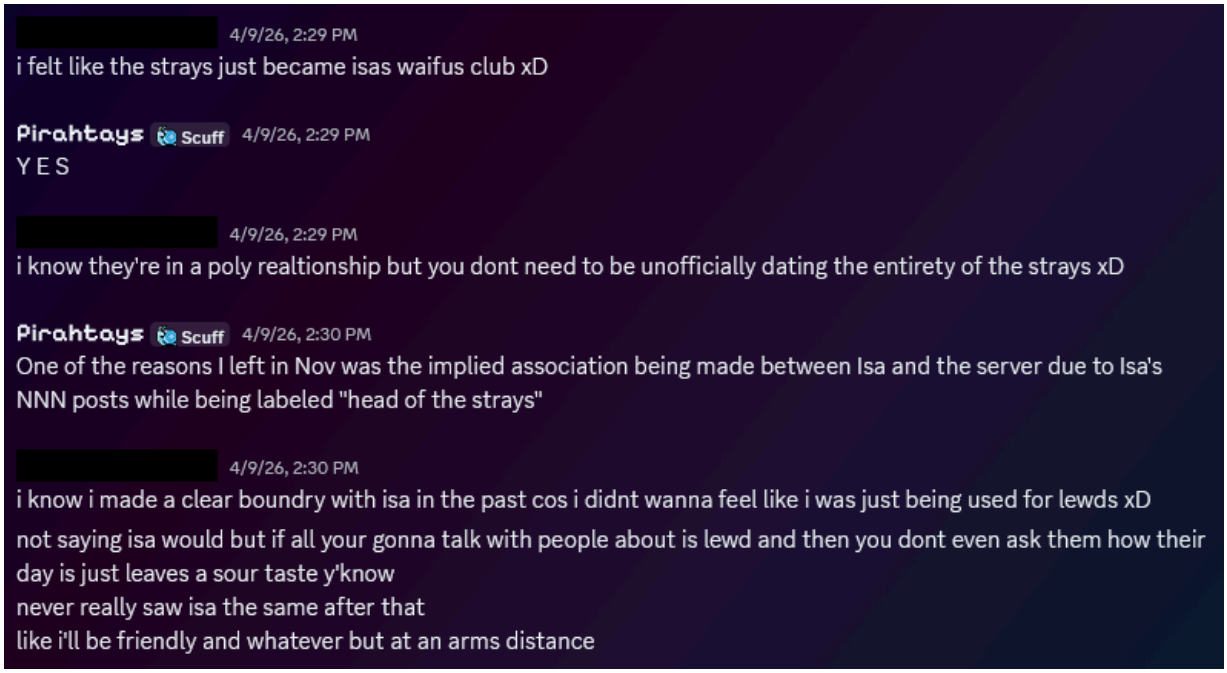

Overall Lack of Consent for Publishing of NSFW Art / Pressuring folks into NSFW art

Multiple folks have voiced opinions to me personally during the past and over the entirety of this incident regarding Isa's NSFW art project #ProjectIsa. Most were complaints that they didn't want to be associated, and some have complained that the art was not published with consent on public social platforms. Some folks have stated that they were pestered to make art and had to set boundaries.

Almost all of the pieces are being posted to Isa's nsfw twitter account @isalewdquetzal / @isalewdhowl - not always with consent Most folks are not aware that a lot of the art pieces have been uploaded to Rule34 as well and tagged with Isa_L_Quetzal, mostly by the user zerotherp. While not confirmed this is Isa's acct, the name is similar to the IRL Bluesky account linked to Isa - Zeroclear.bsky.social.

If you are someone who has had the art done and have not consented to it being posted to this site,you can go there and try to request that it be moderated and removed. You can find it here: https://rule34.xxx/index.php?page=post&s=list&tags=isa_l_quetzal+

Im sorry but I really feel that regardless of the NSFW rules you should ASK before posting. Unless the NSFW rules specifically state that public posting is alright. The absolute least thing he could have done was apologize for not making sure it was OK to post.

[redacted]

The wild thing is Isa did the same thing to me. They had art commissioned of our characters NSFW, which I knew about, but then they posted and tagged me on blue sky

I was SO pissed

Like, im cool with posting on the discord where people KNEW this was happening and in a NSFW setting

But my personal non-NSFW account!?

Pirahtays Scuff 4/5/26, 3:00 PM

Sorry, wasn't ignoring but was on a call with someone that asked me wtf was going on

Yeah, anytime you post something like the nsfw work where there are more than yourself, you need to get consent explicitly from each person when you want to post it somewhere else

They do not understand that

[redacted] 8/9/2026 11:52 PM

Please do

Bc I never consented to that

I only consented to it being on the discord and the socials of the artists that drew them.

But half the time it wasn't even the artists that were posting them and tagging me

Pirahtays 8/9/2026 11:54 PM

Thats the thing, Isa didn't get approval to tell the artists they could post it

[redacted] 8/9/2026 11:55 PM

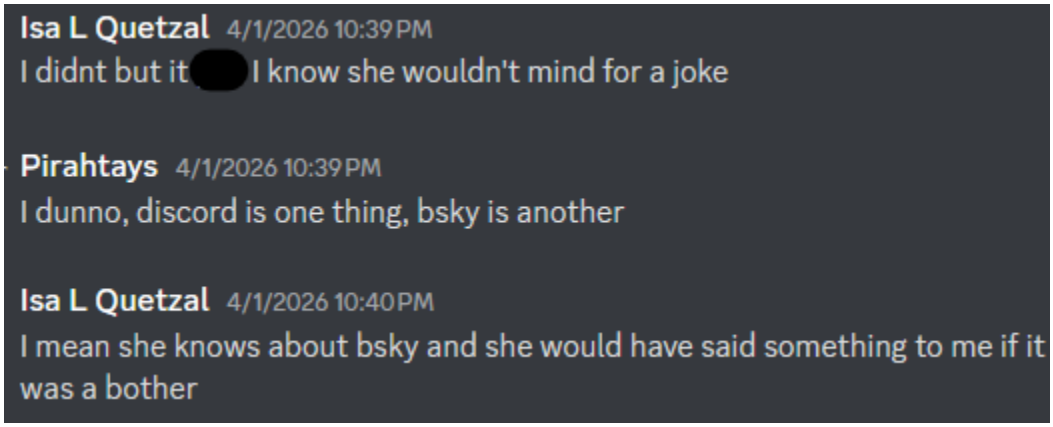

Yep

So I had no idea about any of it, and neither did anyone else

R34 was the biggest surprise

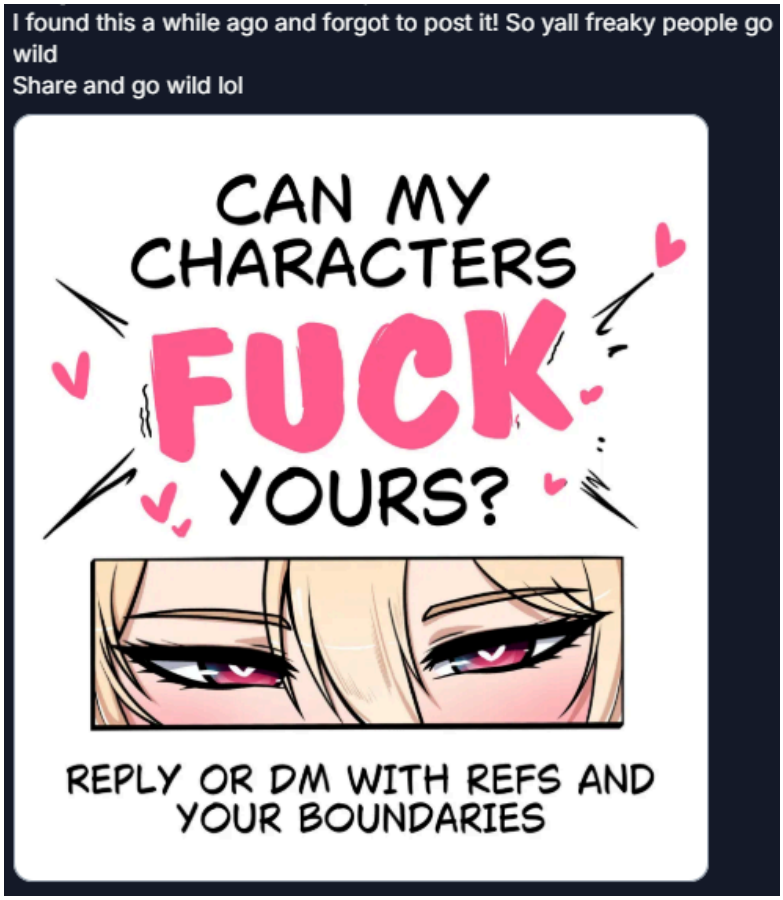

April 2026 – Violation of Consent / Impersonation

On April Fools day as a prank, Isa decided to clone the online persona of a friend on all socials, including Bluesky, Twitter, Discord and going so far as to rename their personal Discord server. This was done without knowledge or consent of the individual. When confronted and asked if they got permission they replied that “I didn’t” and they “would have said something to me if it was a bother”.

This was found out to be a lie, since I was streaming with them about it on the night in question and we only found out around 8PM EST when trying to put a go-live notif on Bluesky and saw their name show up twice in search.

This suddenly attributed all of Isa’s Social posts to the individual. Even though their handle was still correct the name was identical – and for those not knowing any better they would get the wrong impression from things like:

This also caused trouble for the individual for the next issue:

March / May 2026 – Violation of Consent for NSFW art and Escalation

I won't go into too much detail regarding the incident since it is fairly well documented on public posts in Bluesky here:

(Reminder that due to the non-consented April Fools prank all of the posts are attributed to the impersonated individual and not Isa)
https://bsky.app/profile/kitevale.bsky.social/post/3mii2oq7yk224

Isa decided to make NSFW artwork for Lume, Lume shared their NSFW Fanart guidelines and the resultant artwork expressly violated these guidelines. Regardless of whether it was given at the beginning or not, consent was not granted or was revoked at the time the art was completed and it was informed it could not be posted because of this. That request was ignored and the art was posted publicly in the Maya server, and continues to be posted in screenshots as Isa tries to “prove their side”. Consent was not granted for this.

Note that this was not part of #ProjectIsa where willing participants get NSFW artwork done with Isa. Lume was never a participant in that.

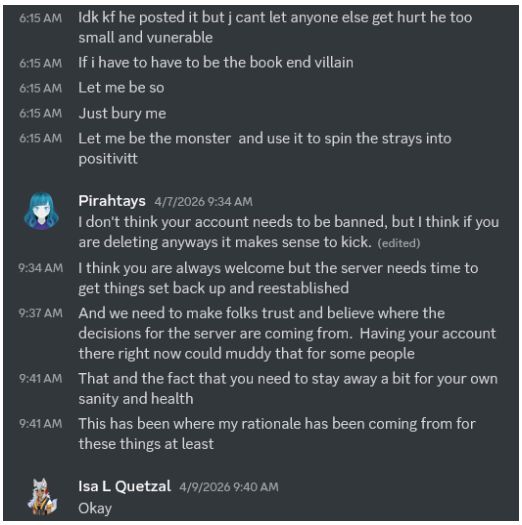

The outcome of this was that Isa decided to delete their Bluesky account, and delete the Strays and their Personal servers without much information as to why things were happening. The personal server was deleted since there was a fear of “spying” and “being stalked” by folks that had accounts on their server. The biggest reason this seemed to be an issue to them was they routinely talked about these private matters in their discord to everyone. I had personally reminded them that a discord server is not private since there are public invite links and anyone can join.

Due to all of the controversy going back and forth, most of the Strays admin team had left, not willing to be associated with Isa any longer. After hearing about the deletion, the admin team, including myself, were able to discuss with Isa a transfer of the server so that those that wanted to continue on could stay.

After the server transition Isa decided to take a hiatus from things and ceased streaming. After deleting their personal discord apparently multiple discord servers were created upon which Isa was a part and open discussion of private matters continued. I and others at this point continued to have open discussion with them regarding things in order to try to mitigate any issues that arose since there was much misinformation and things being misconstrued.

One such misconception was that the server had been “taken” from Isa even though after transfer it was actually their wish to be removed from the server and was expressed to us multiple times and to multiple people coherently and clearly.

6:09
5G
92
Also I made a decision considering this
If you all want to heal and repair the strays
Best case is ban me
Just do it
Ban me and make a post about how the strays are mo longer connected to Isa bec of recent events
Make me the story monster and frame it as the strays healing

6:15 AM Idk kf he posted it but j cant let anyone else get hurt he too small and vunerable
6:15 AM If i have to have to be the book end villain
6:15 AM Let me be so
6:15 AM Just bury me
6:15 AM Let me be the monster and use it to spin the strays into positivitt
Pirahtays 4/7/2026 9:34 AM
I don't think your account needs to be banned, but I think if you are deleting anyways it makes sense to kick. (edited)
9:34 AM I think you are always welcome but the server needs time to get things set back up and reestablished
9:37 AM And we need to make folks trust and believe where the decisions for the server are coming from. Having your account there right now could muddy that for some people
9:41 AM That and the fact that you need to stay away a bit for your own sanity and health
9:41 AM This has been where my rationale has been coming from for these things at least
Isa L Quetzal 4/9/2026 9:40 AM
Okay

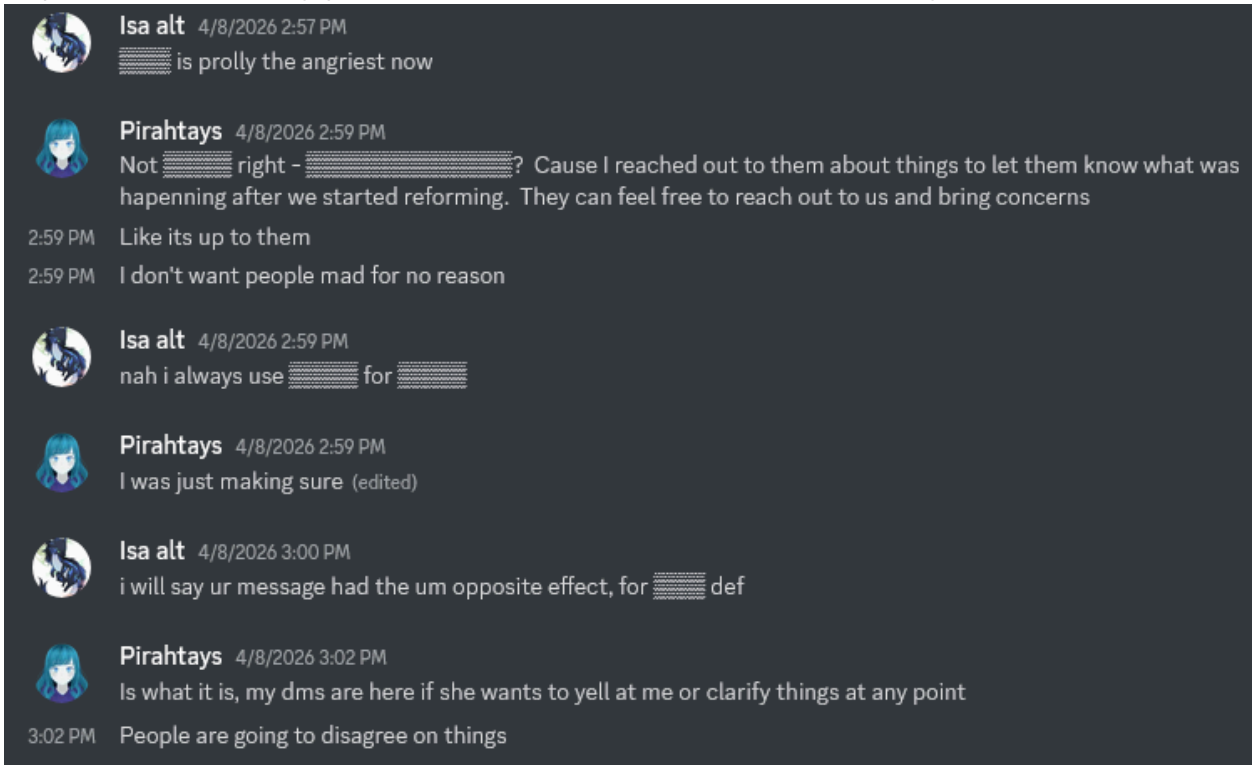

The admin team agreed that it was best to distance the server from Isa during this time to establish that they were not associated any longer in the actions of the group so it could continue on. We had mentioned to them initially that it was just best for the group to be separated only because of the state of things going on at the time. Isa's further instigations, harassment of folks and actions over time made it clear that it would be toxic for them to come back to the server. The reality is that by this point had we not interjected it would have been deleted and gone.

They then acted next day like they never made this request to us and judging by peoples opinions seemingly did not own up to this in their newly formed server:

Additionally there was rampant misinformation flying around in general as seen below - I was directly in communication with the person mentioned here shortly after this and was informed that they were not in fact angry but just frustrated with the situation overall in general.

During this time Isa wanted to continue to fight when they were advised by others and myself to take accountability for making a mistake and simply apologize and move on. They did not and continued trying to build a case. Talking multiple times about having a “moderated server” where people from both sides could talk. It was explained that the point of the server was to have a place to discuss and make an apology, but they refused to move on from the thought of bringing in individuals to present “their side”. It was clear that Isa had no intent to apologize and simply wanted to escalate the arguments and have evidence to provide something externally.

Isa continued to make attempts to clear their name by screenshotting and sharing personal DMs from multiple people without knowledge and doxxed a few people in the process. They also caused backlash to many individuals by making badly worded / misinforming posts in their new discord servers. I and others tried to help them during this time period but were not able to most times since the damage had already been done.

10:36 AM I fucked up big
10:36 AM And I won't live it down

Pirahtays 4/10/2026 10:36 AM
I don't know whats going on just calm down a bit

Isa alt 4/10/2026 10:36 AM
And I will disappoint everyone

10:36 AM I fucked up bog
10:36 AM I am hyperventilating

Pirahtays 4/10/2026 10:37 AM
You just need to slow down and think of things before you do stuff

10:37 AM Its fine breathe

Isa alt 4/10/2026 10:37 AM
I was high a d happy having fixed things with [redacted]

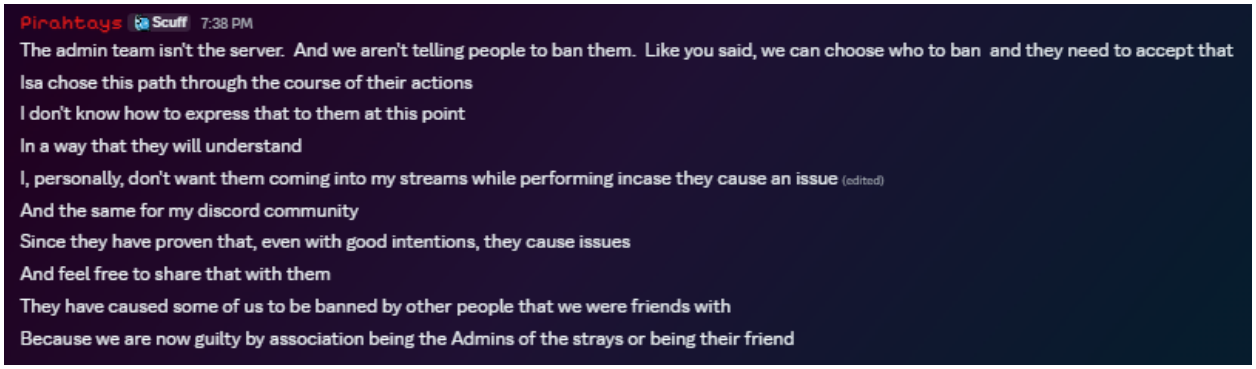

10:37 AM She got blocked by [redacted] bec of this
10:37 AM I was like I have a problem with [redacted]
10:37 AM I recorded ghe convos with [redacted]/[redacted] and went see there nothing here
10:38 AM And showed [redacted]
10:38 AM [redacted] wa like oh yeah I dknt see any drana
10:38 AM And I was lkke perfect
10:38 AM I was thinking so happy and be like
10:38 AM Now bef [redacted] knows I will dm [redacted] apologize for the 3 things I did wrong to her
10:38 AM And be like here the video
10:38 AM See idk what I dod to [redacted] I am sorry whatever it was that happened
10:39 AM Idk what it is but j can see and j am sorry it happenf
10:39 AM I wanted to be there hero
10:39 AM I was proud
10:39 AM I was thinking wigh like I will do good
10:39 AM And u woll be proud
10:39 AM [redacted] will be proud
10:39 AM [redacted] will be proud and [redacted] will be u blocked
10:39 AM But the thing is there was personal info
10:40 AM And now [redacted] angry and doesnt feel safe
10:40 AM And I shouldn't have 10:40 AM I should have considered this
10:40 AM I should have asked ur opinion

Pirahtays 4/10/2026 10:40 AM
Oh - I see

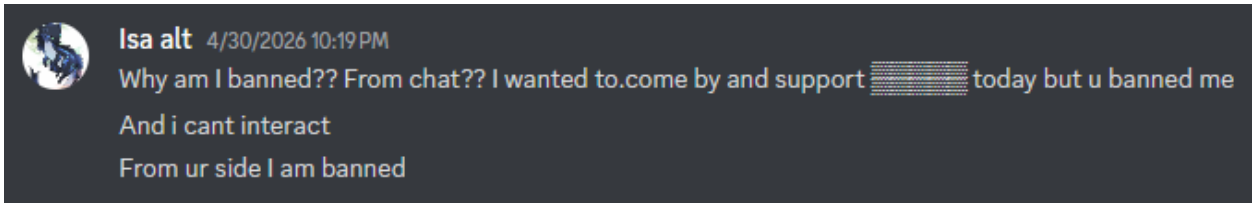

Isa alt 4/10/2026 10:40 AM
I thought I was doing good not going for drama

Pirahtays 4/10/2026 10:40 AM
So this has to do with the post [redacted] responded to

After this happened a few times during this time period and also seeing this in the past it was an unfortunate realization that this was a pattern that was not getting any better. Despite multiple people trying to help, their behavior was starting to become more erratic. I made efforts to start protecting my spaces from their actions – one such action was to ban Isa on Twitch. Since I knew this could potentially cause questions to the other "Strays" server staff, I notified them of what I was going to do:

Some time later after banning I received this dm which I responded with the above letting them know my reasons as to why I was I was blocking them:

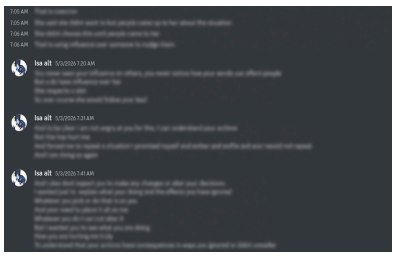

Days later I was woken up by a massive dm storm over the course of an hour starting before 7AM with what amounted to an unhinged rant about them being blocked trying to frame it as me starting some universal blocklist and convincing others to block them. What had happened was that the person I was streaming with had been a part of my Twitch shared moderation, so banning / blocking in one channel means potentially blocking the user in multiple channels.

I will not share the full text of this conversation because it serves no purpose being fully public, but for context of the wall of text I woke up to:

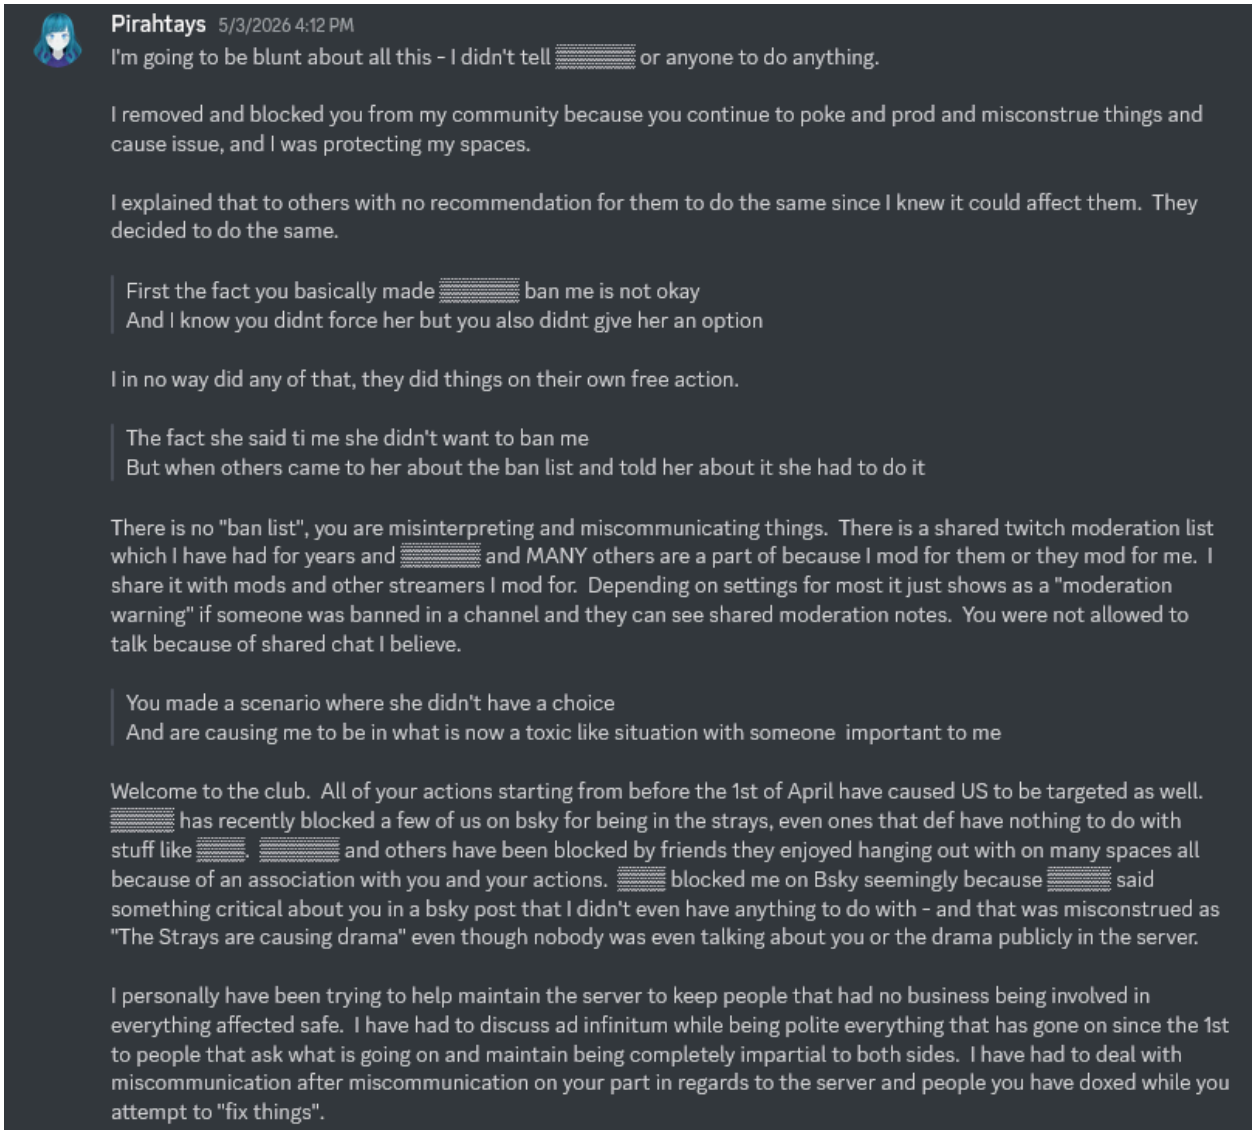

The narrative laid out that they were the victim even though the block was caused by their own actions. In short I was accused of everything they were actually doing including:

- Coercing someone into banning them despite their reluctance
- Using influence to manipulate someone else's decisions
- Creating an unhealthy situation where they must interact privately only
- Acting out of emotional anger without considering consequences
- Interfering with matters I had no right to interfere with
- Causing emotional pain and mental anguish
- Ignoring the consequences of my actions on others
- Placing blame on them instead of accepting responsibility

My response was as such:

Pirahtays 5/3/2026 4:12 PM

I'm going to be blunt about all this - I didn't tell [redacted] or anyone to do anything.

I removed and blocked you from my community because you continue to poke and prod and misconstrue things and cause issue, and I was protecting my spaces.

I explained that to others with no recommendation for them to do the same since I knew it could affect them. They decided to do the same.

> First the fact you basically made [redacted] ban me is not okay
> And I know you didnt force her but you also didnt gjve her an option

I in no way did any of that, they did things on their own free action.

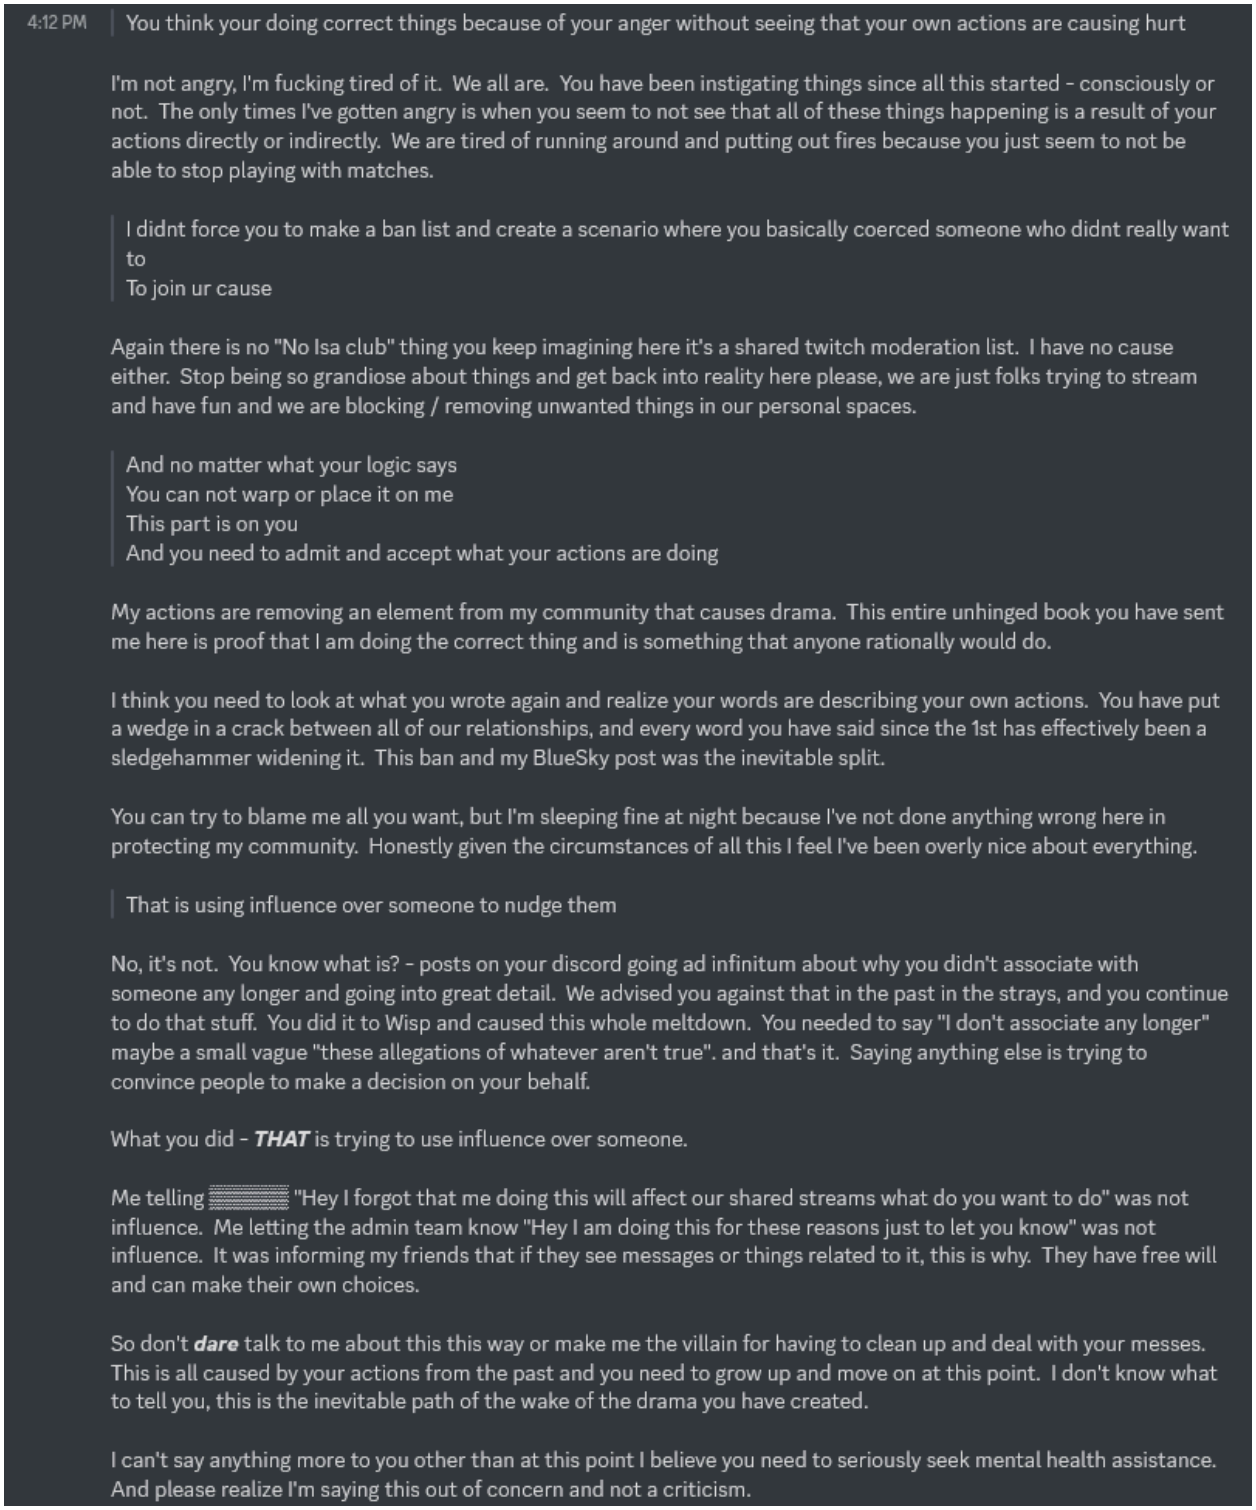

> The fact she said ti me she didn't want to ban me
> But when others came to her about the ban list and told her about it she had to do it

There is no "ban list", you are misinterpreting and miscommunicating things. There is a shared twitch moderation list which I have had for years and [redacted] and MANY others are a part of because I mod for them or they mod for me. I share it with mods and other streamers I mod for. Depending on settings for most it just shows as a "moderation warning" if someone was banned in a channel and they can see shared moderation notes. You were not allowed to talk because of shared chat I believe.

> You made a scenario where she didn't have a choice
> And are causing me to be in what is now a toxic like situation with someone important to me

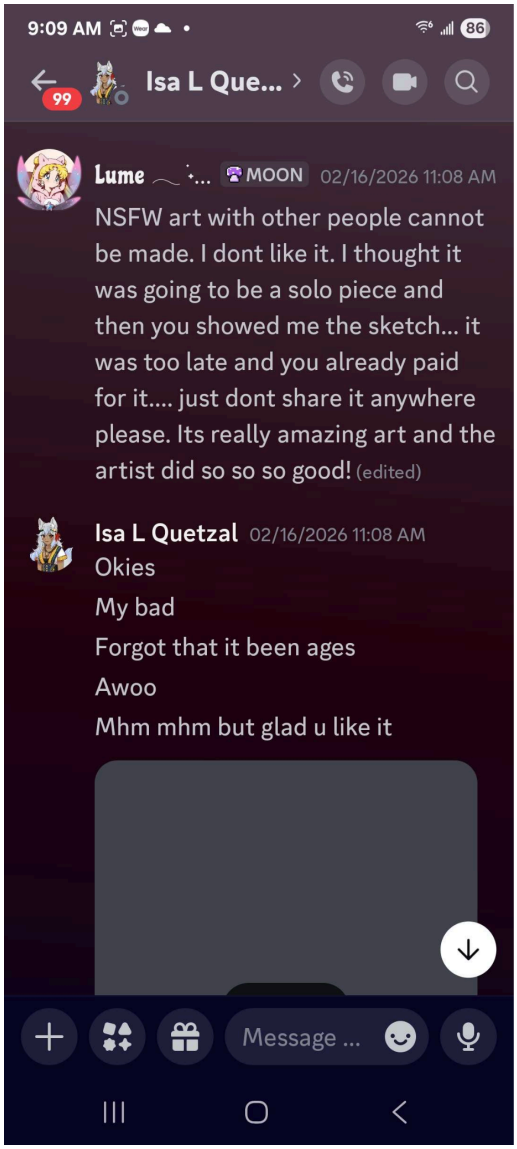

Welcome to the club. All of your actions starting from before the 1st of April have caused US to be targeted as well. [redacted] has recently blocked a few of us on bsky for being in the strays, even ones that def have nothing to do with stuff like [redacted]. [redacted] and others have been blocked by friends they enjoyed hanging out with on many spaces all because of an association with you and your actions. [redacted] blocked me on Bsky seemingly because [redacted] said something critical about you in a bsky post that I didn't even have anything to do with - and that was misconstrued as "The Strays are causing drama" even though nobody was even talking about you or the drama publicly in the server.

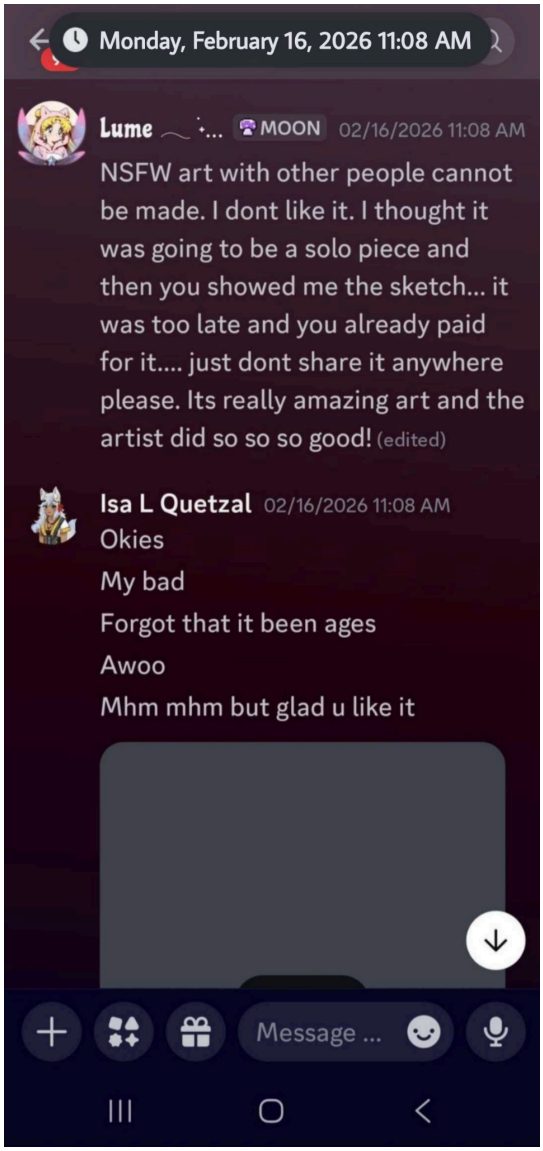

I personally have been trying to help maintain the server to keep people that had no business being involved in everything affected safe. I have had to discuss ad infinitum while being polite everything that has gone on since the 1st to people that ask what is going on and maintain being completely impartial to both sides. I have had to deal with miscommunication after miscommunication on your part in regards to the server and people you have doxed while you attempt to "fix things".

As of that point their further response contained no apology for misunderstanding of any issues and continued to act as if none of any of these events were their fault. It was at this point I had blocked them on Discord and moved on from trying to help them any further. To this date they take no accountability for their auctions and maintain that things were justified.

In my and others opinions this entire event could have been handled by an apology for a misunderstanding on Isa's part. It was made clear by Lume that the art violated their guidelines but had already been paid for by the time they were made aware.

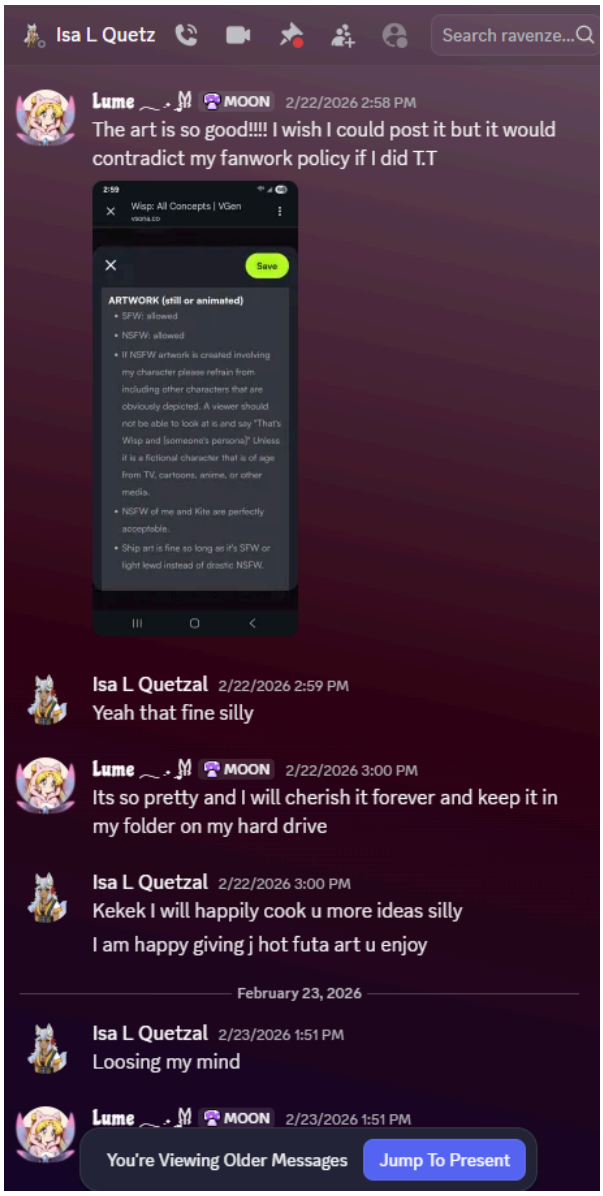

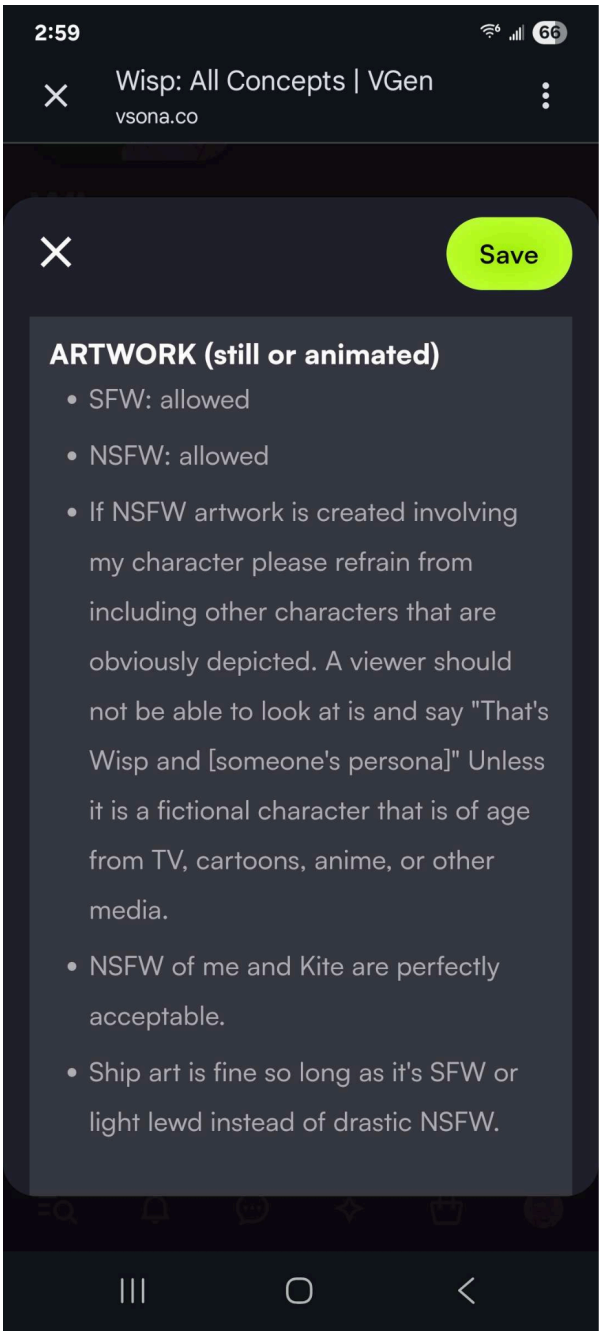

(Image showing discord timestamp of edited text on Lume's Message proving it was not "edited later" as has been claimed)

By their own “evidence”, they agreed to Lume’s NSFW policies. Isa posted it on their server anyways.

Regardless of who was at fault, the escalation and harassment started with Isa by making this a public issue in their server and exposing unnecessary private details.

I been struggling wether to discuss this recent incident and how I feel.about it
But after thinking about it for weeks I decided I need to express my feelings and talk about it
I am not longer supporting or advertising or sponsoring Wisp/Hauntlette/Punkysinz
And will say be wary of this vgen artist/streamer
They were part of another friend group bef that kicked her out after her behavior in the past
And I myself can no longer be part of her life bec she has had a few moments that I myself cant agree with
The latest was her accusation of not agreeing with the art with me even thought there proof she did
In dms and on this server and [redacted] server
Where I poked ppl who recall her talking publicly about bejng excited for the art or agreeing to even orgy art with others

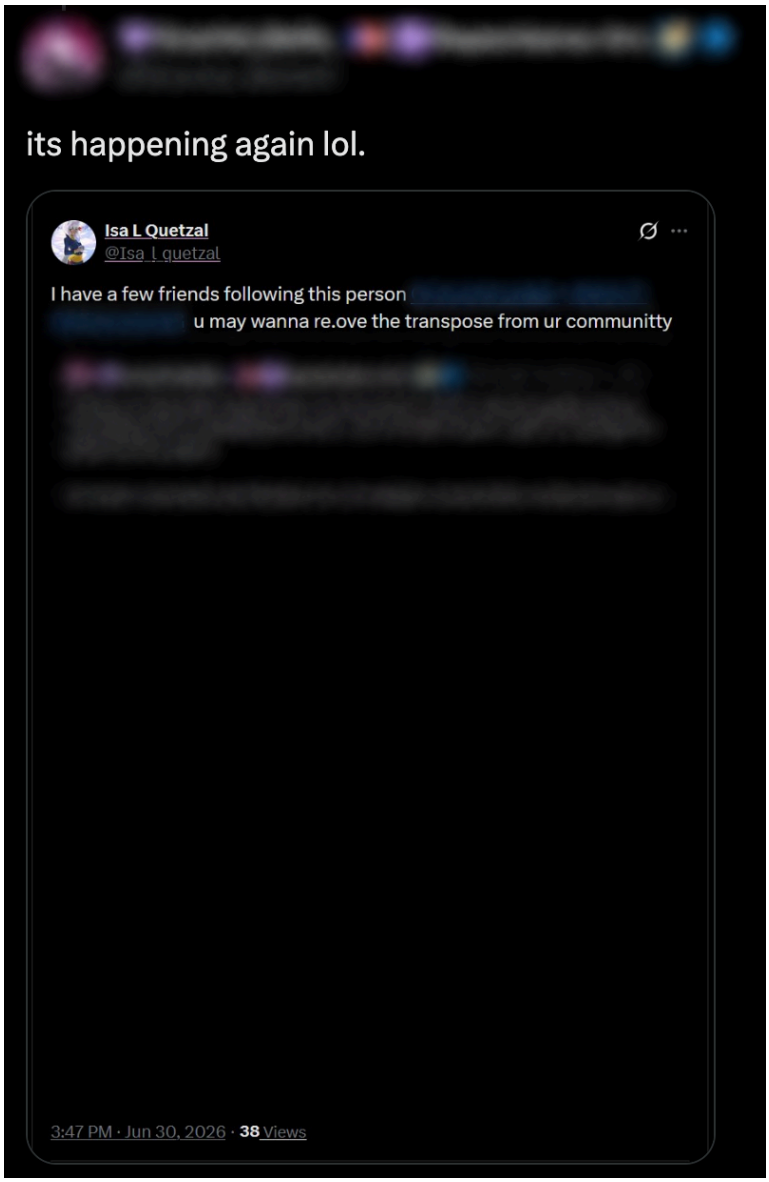

There been a history of her fabricating and altering history
Including accusing someone of being a sexual predator yet when pushed had no proof and got angry I wouldn't act on it
She also would be toxic possessive once getting angry I played a game with [redacted] ghat she said was supposed to be only our game
And getting angry and choosing never to play that game afterwards

She originally left the server because of how we publicly declared [redacted] incident and said we shouldn't have made a post about it

In our last interaction she accused me of having the strays be a self ego boost and that I had ruined it
And claimed she wasn't happy about the art
Plus other stuff
In the end I just cant have her be a part of my community

June / July 2026 - Social harassment / Doxxing-adjacent behavior

On the 30th of June Isa responded to a transphobic post by publicly calling out 3 friends that happened to be following them. This was not done with any other statement to decry the person as being transphobic but to publicly call them out saying they should “remove them from their community”.

Their only actions here did nothing to decry the individual making the post, it only served to seed controversy and harm by exposing everyone involved to the community of the original poster. This screenshot retweet was made by the OP chiding their actions and bringing more attention and exposure of risk to everyone involved. If Isa wanted to call out the poster they could have easily done so without putting three additional people and their communities at risk. They later claim that they are doing all this to protect their community, but it seems that they are only willing to do so at the expense of everyone else.

One tagged individual untagged themselves and stated publicly that Isa handled this incorrectly and should have just let them privately know so the person could be unfollowed. They had no intentions of following someone like that, the person being followed was not a member of their community and they had no knowledge of the posters beliefs.

In a moment of trying to apply humor to the situation of them being called out for literally the same actions that caused their hiatus, I decided to send Isa a meme. I called them out for making an issue that should have been handled privately in public once again.

Rather than once again admitting any wrongdoing and apologizing for an issue, Isa decided to complain about the issue publicly on 3 random peoples tweets and a long narrative. One specifically including my name in it. In these tweets they try to spin the narrative that their actions are justified since they are calling out a transphobe who is harmful to the community - which for the record nobody stated anything about or acted like they shouldn't.

The only criticism was that the way they did it put three people unnecessarily at risk, didn't decry the individual at all, and appeared to just be grandstanding for clout. This is not the actions of someone trying to protect communities. This is the actions of someone seeking attention via manufactured drama.

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal

I talked about this in my server but anyone who calls anything involving lgbtq stuff such as telling ppl about homophibes or asking ppl to unfollow them in order to keep ur safe space secure is not drama
We this entire community is not DRAMA
OUR pain our suffering is a daily ...

4:24 PM · Jul 2, 2026 · 189 Views

1 7 1

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 8h
Replying to @Isa_l_quetzal
Thing
We are always being hated on or treated badly and what we demand is to be kept safe and secure
So yes do expect the community to call bs
And try to keep.their space safe
To call our need and want to be kept safe in anyways
As drama is offensive and demeaning and insulting

1 1 41

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 8h
Replying to @Isa_l_quetzal
To.refer to as any of this as drama is labeling my and our existance as drama
We are a people and if you do any of this you deserve to be removed from.the community

1 59

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 8h
Replying to @Isa_l_quetzal
I will fight to keep my boundaries safe and secure from such hate and demeaning mentality

39

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 30m
This hits to close to home recently, I made a call put post and was like hey everyone following this transphobe remove them from ur community poking ppl I followed that followed them
Then one of the calls it dragging them into personal drama
Or virtue signaling
Like I am enby

1 7

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 29m
This is about a transphobe who will happily hurt me and my friends whom are all manner of gay, like no this isnt about me this is about me wating my boundary secure
My friends and I to be safe
And to make sure ppl will show their true colors

8:04 100%

Post

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 17h
Replying to [redacted]
OH BOI U HAVE NO IDEA, and i am gona call out this person for this, bec i had argument with this person once and they blocked me, this perosn unblcoked me to snide at me bec of my post calling out ppl who were folowing this looser. i was like unfollow this homphobe and ....

1 23

Isa L Quetzal @Isa_l_quetzal · 17h
Replying to @Isa_l_quetzal [redacted]
this person decide to call me making sure ppl are aware theya re following a homphobe and i wnat my peace and security being gay, that i wnat them to unfollow. but this person called this be dragging ppl into DRAMA WE ARE NOT FUCKING DRAMA, CA,LLING OUT NAYTHING ABOUT ....

1 34

Isa L Quetzal
@Isa_l_quetzal
Follow

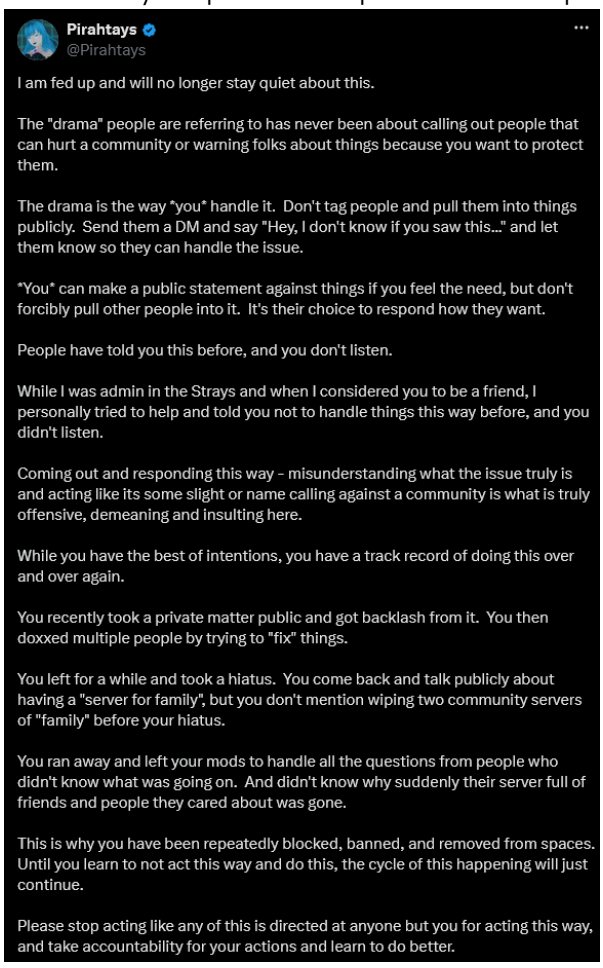

Replying to @Isa_l_quetzal [redacted]
HOMOPHOBIO IS NOT DRAMA it is insultive, demeaning and cruel to call me trying to defend my boundary and the community boundary as drama, as if being ahted by homphobes is drama LIKE FUCK U FOR THAT, we are being hated and targeted, i want ppl to be aware and safe

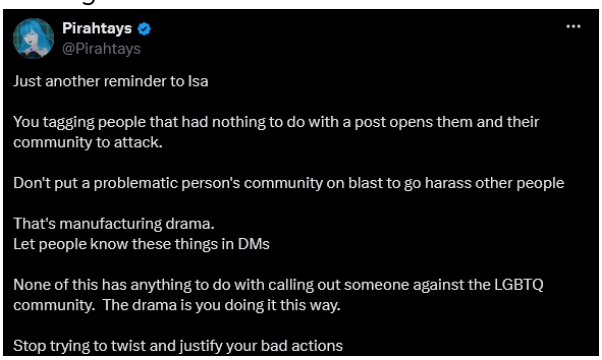

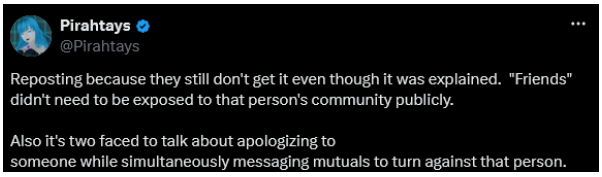

In the middle of this, a third party was discussing with Isa that an apology to one of the affected individuals would be a good idea. It was their understanding that Isa was in agreement with this. Meanwhile during this I was informed that while Isa was discussing making an apology to this person, they were also reaching out to this person's mutuals and attempting to convince them that they shouldn't talk to them any longer and basically talking shit about them. This is the two face behavior I mention in my responses. Other items I brought up were other actions and tweets that were brought up to me that were made since Isa was back from hiatus such as:

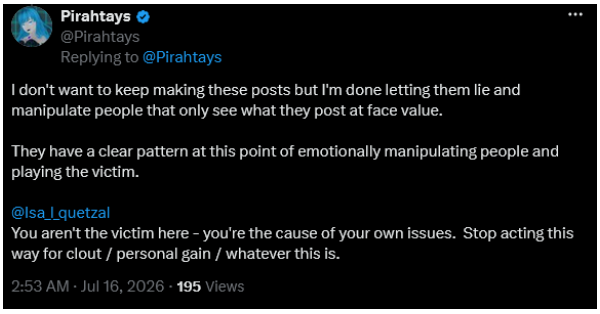

- Posting about how their server was "family" like they hadn't deleted 2 servers without thought to the folks they didn't inform.
- Leaving the mods to handle all the folks in their "family" that didn't know what happened since Isa's main Discord account was abandoned.
- Various items stemming from the drama caused from the NSFW art.

Here are my full personal responses to these posts calling out these actions:

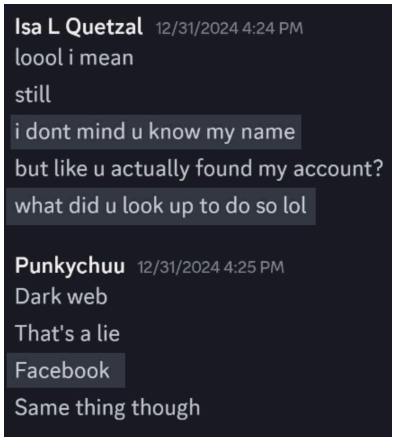

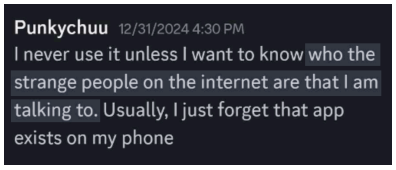

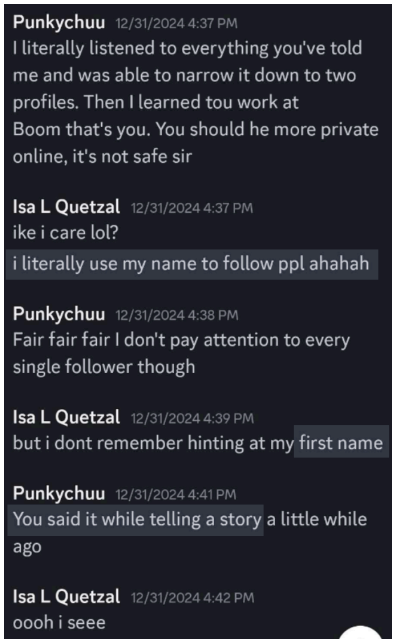

July / Aug 2026 (Ongoing) - Serial Harassment of Those Involved

Isa has started a serial harassment campaign against many folks as a justification of their actions. One issue is an old conversation with Punkysinz (Lume / Hauntlette) when they first met because Lume took information that Isa had given out unprompted by Lume that was personally identifying, and performed a google search and found Isa's profile on Facebook. Isa admitted to publicly disclosing their name even in the text exchange and sharing their name in chat to Lume.

This was a conversation between an (at the time) 35ish year old male identifying individual, and a 19 year old female of which neither knew relatively much about each other. This was a case of vetting of an unknown individual by a young woman potentially scared for their safety.

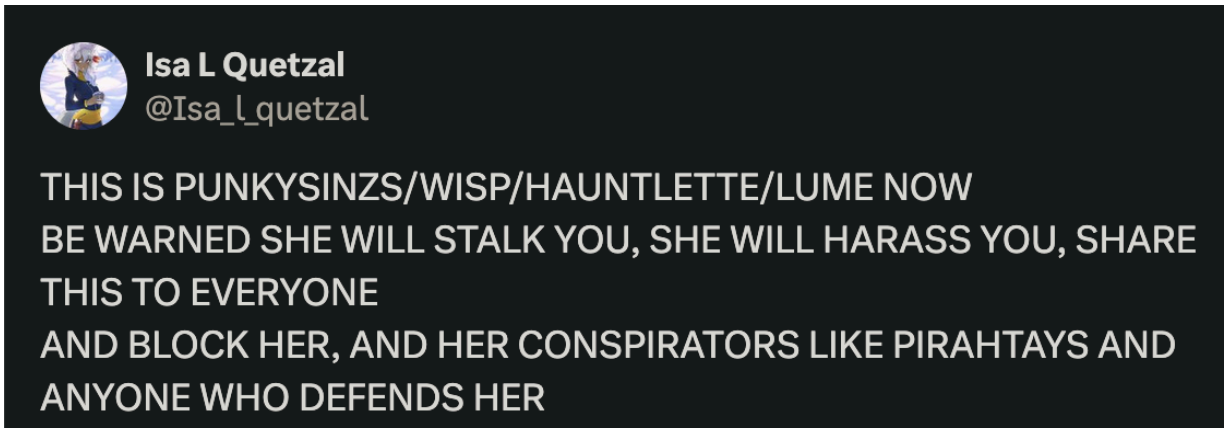

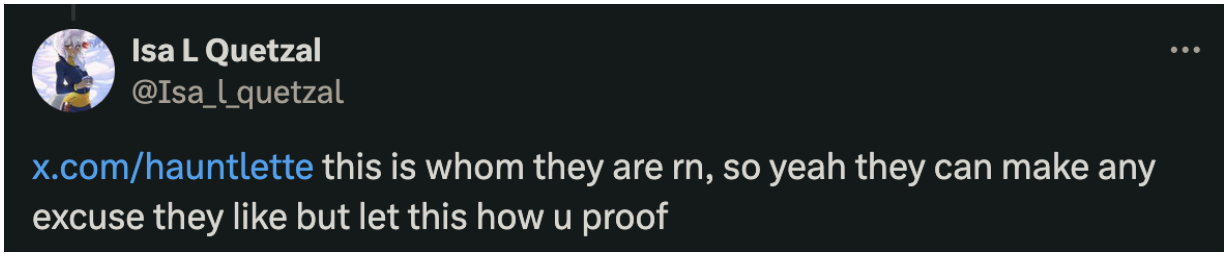

I have reason to believe personally that Isa and others are continually spreading rumors to try to push this narrative of stalking. One such rumor that was brought to me was that Lume used their "Government Job" to look up information on Isa. This is 100% false, they have never been employed under or had access to any type of information or system that would give this information. It came all from Facebook based on the personally identifying information that Isa had mentioned in conversation and public. Isa refuses or is incapable of believing that they have given enough information out publicly that a 5 word google search can show a staggering amount of their information.

Isa continues to claim this was "stalking" or "doxxing", but both of those things would require that Lume disclosed the personal information publicly and / or harass and threaten Isa about it.

Neither of those things occurred, yet Isa continues to harass and manipulate others and myself for speaking out and setting the record straight with the full context of things. This behaviour on their part at this point seems to be an attempt to sympathetically manipulate others to portray themselves as a victim and justify their incorrect actions that have taken place.

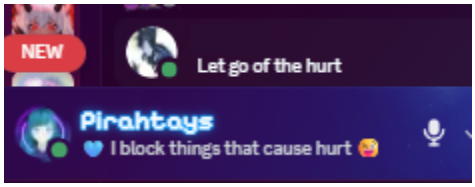

As for me - Isa can continue to try to discredit me because I made fun of their discord status. I 100% did mock them - because by that point I had endured a month of dealing with their constant inability to accept fault for their actions white they continued to cause more drama by:

- Sharing peoples DMs without consent
- Spreading divisiveness in their servers with misinformation
- Unintentionally / intentionally causing mass blocks on people uninvolved
- Causing stress to friends who were trying to fix things
- Continually putting undeserved people in the crosshairs of others
- Putting stress on folks from having to handle requests and be there for friends who were caught in the crosshairs of things.

And I did all this with lines of communication open, and being as patient as I could be. I believe my tone of communication up to this point (May 2, 2026) in the messages I have included here will show this. It got to a point where I could no longer deal with the amount of messages and had been forced to block them from my server and streaming areas because they were proven to be unstable. And in their childish actions of continually not accepting blame for things, they then started endlessly posting discord status that looked like they were written by an emo teenager, further proving their inability to deal with this like an adult. So when their status: “Let go of the hurt” - implying that others need to move on with things while they continue to not take responsibility came up, I was fed up and jokingly mocked them back with “I block the things that cause hurt”.

I changed my status back not too long after, but I was no longer interested in appeasing someone that clearly was not treating the situation like an adult. Additionally - I will mention that their status was not just interpreted that way by myself, but by others that had actually brought it to my attention.

Also I will note that, just as I posted on Twitter, the information I'm getting about the statements Isa is making publicly is being messaged to me in DMs. There are a lot of people very confused about their half truths and claims and have been messaging me for clarification. I have Isa blocked and have no interest in following what they are posting at this point outside of investigation to correct their blatant lies and misinformation as it is forwarded to me.

October 2026 (Ongoing) - Further Serial Harassment, Lies, and False Accusations

At some point in October, Isa changed their Twitter username to @Isa_H_Quetzal. This prompted somebody to create a "Not Isa" account using the old @Isa_L_Quetzal username, with a statement and link to this document. Shortly thereafter, the Bluesky account @isa-l-quetzal.bsky.social — previously thought to be reclaimed by Isa — also surfaced and began posting statements with links to this document.

To clarify: I have nothing to do with these or any other accounts posting besides my main Twitter/BSky accounts. I do not know who is responsible for them, and I am not directing anyone to post or say anything on their accounts.

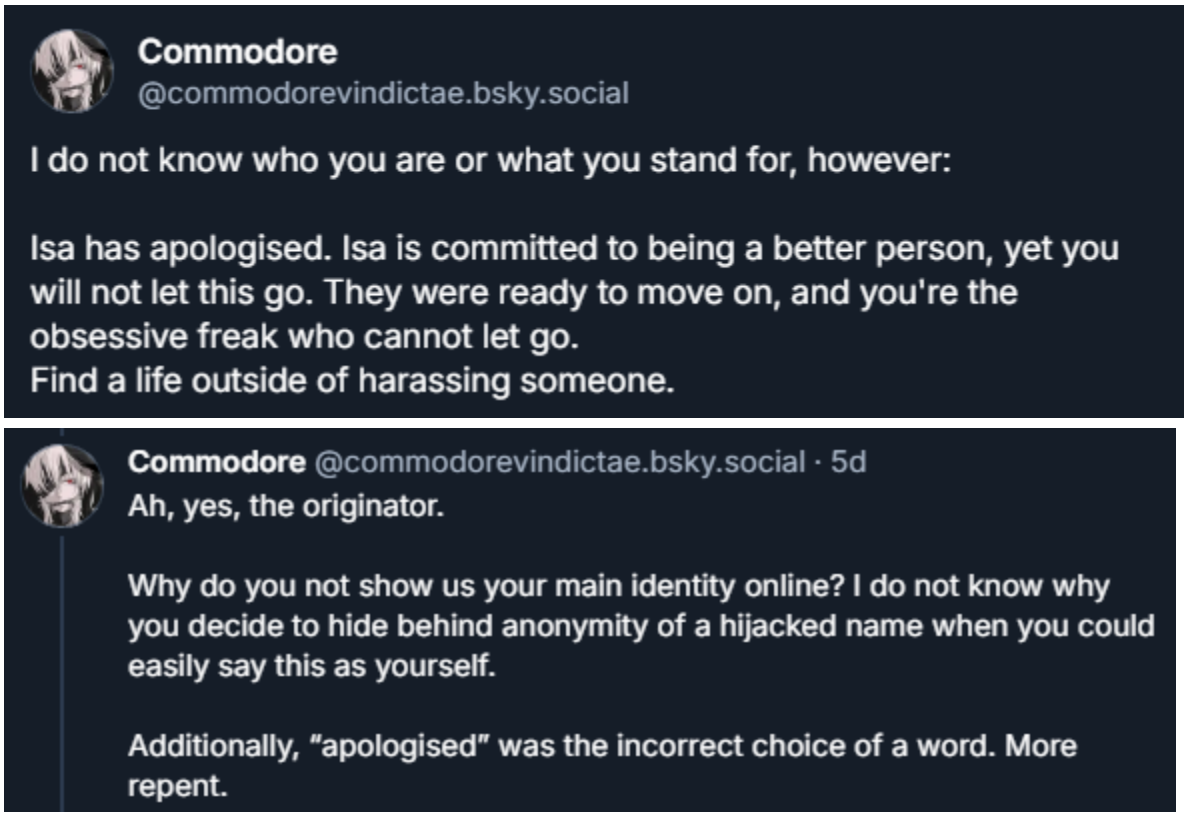

Shortly after this, someone created Bluesky and Twitter accounts under @commodorevindictae.bsky.social, presenting as a "Demon of Justice" complete with a manifesto explaining their stance on these matters. The manifesto contained statements such as:

- "Accountability is necessary."
- "Those who have made mistakes, acknowledged their wrongdoing and demonstrated a genuine willingness to better themselves deserve the opportunity to do so."
- "Those who have caused harm must accept responsibility for their actions."
- "Those who have suffered deserve to have their experiences acknowledged, and nobody is obligated to forgive somebody who has wronged them."
- "Redemption cannot be demanded. It must be demonstrated through actions, honesty and a sustained commitment to change."
- "Equally, those who have been falsely accused or deliberately misrepresented deserve the opportunity to have their side of the story heard."

They replied to the "Not Isa" accounts on both platforms, claiming that Isa had "apologized" and was "committed to being a better person."

https://bsky.app/profile/commodorevindictae.bsky.social/post/3mxonrwulht2n

They later rescinded that claim, saying that Isa had "repented" rather than apologized.

This person's own manifesto sets the standard: those who have caused harm "must accept responsibility for their actions," and redemption "must be demonstrated through actions, honesty and a sustained commitment to change." By their own criteria, Isa meets none of it. There has been no apology, no acceptance of responsibility, and no demonstrated change — especially considering Isa continues to push the "stalker" narrative about Lume and accuse other folks of being stalkers and spies.

After I addressed these points in posts, it became clear that they were solely trying to discredit the information in this document without offering any factual information of their own, and they decided to block further discussion.

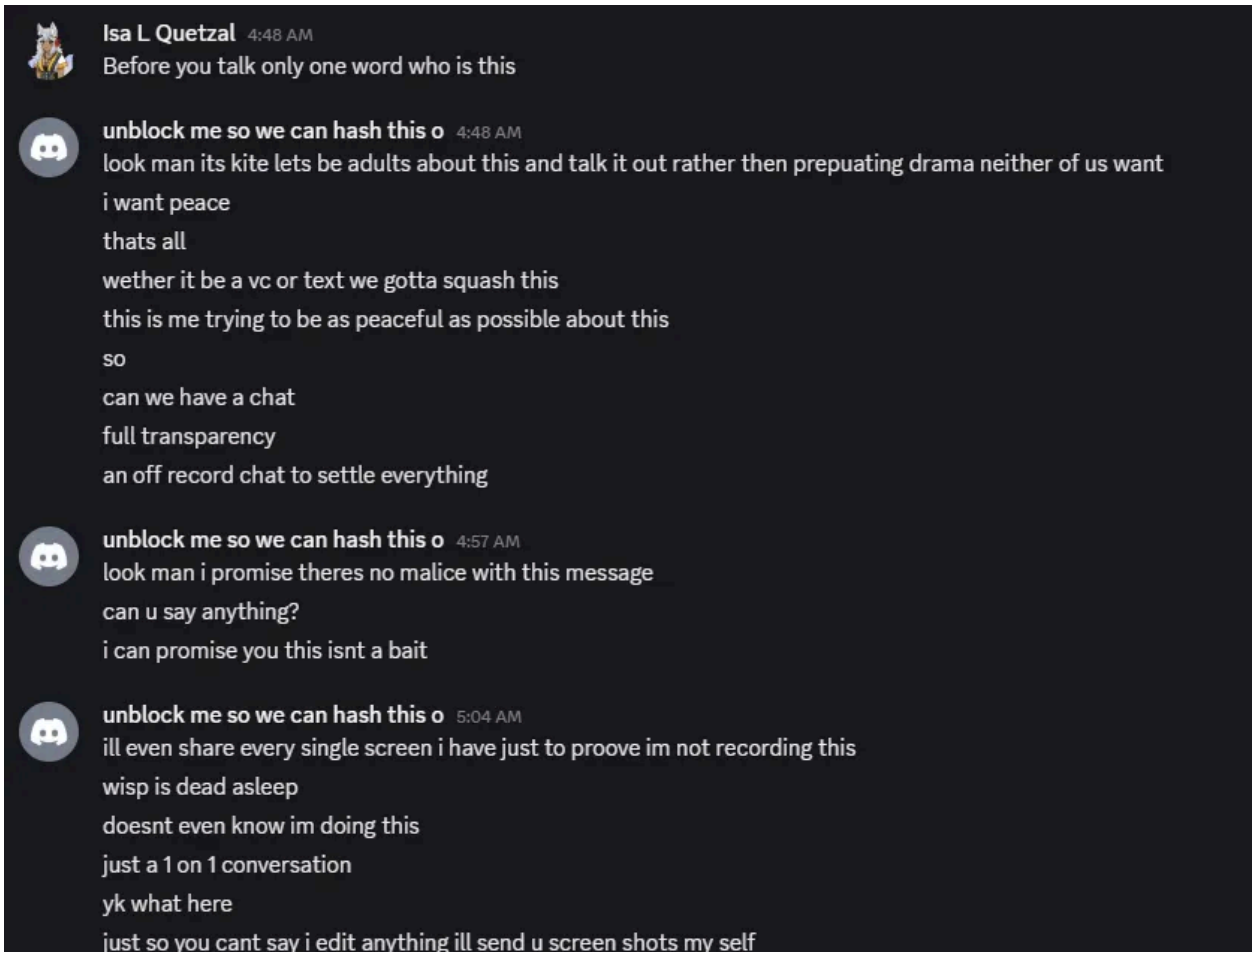

After this happened, a series of emails was sent to my group in an apparent attempt to threaten me. The emails contained an unsubstantiated attempt to frame my discussions and my factual corrections of false claims posted by others as "harassment." Some of the evidence provided was entirely irrelevant, including:

- Third-party messages shared without the original senders' consent, which merely showed that I had a genuine concern for Isa's wellbeing,

- Engagement posts made while I was a mod on the Strays, dating back to October 2024. All of these predate my falling out with Isa, and I was still on speaking terms with them at the time.

Additionally the statement of “all of this could have been handled in DMs” was made during this exchange which is 100% true. The entire root issue that caused all of this is because Isa decided to ignore that advice from myself and others, made public posts in their discord and air dirty laundry and things escalated. There was even an attempt by Kite to reach out and solve things around April before things escalated to the point where Isa had decided to delete their Bluesky acct and servers.

https://bsky.app/profile/kitevale.bsky.social/post/3mxr5kp2njk2g

In late October, @kampkaeru posted an incident regarding Isa’s Discord server after being invited in and shortly after being removed and accused of being a stalker:

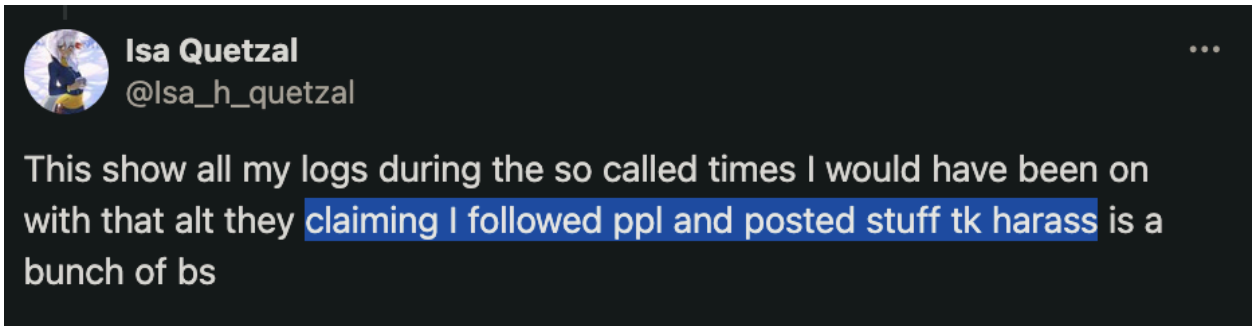

kaeru🐸💚 (pre-deb) on X: "i’m messy but your advertising your discord as this friendly loving server, when this was my experience on DAY 2. PPL R SO WEIRD" / X

This has resulted in people that have spoken out about Isa's actions being accused in DMs of creating complete personas (a full X account with posts, art, etc) simply to "stalk" Isa in their Discord server.

To reiterate - nobody that Isa has accused of stalking and spying on them is actually doing anything of the sort. Neither myself nor Lume have any interest in keeping tabs on what Isa is doing or wanting to join their servers to do so. As stated earlier, people have contacted me with information to put in the document or address publicly because things are being posted and said that are grossly wrong and malicious on Isa's part.

I can only assume these things are being made up and said solely to continue their narrative and play the victim to garner sympathy. The fact remains that Isa has caused this entire issue and refuses to accept that fact and apologize for their actions so everybody can move on. This drama will unfortunately continue as they continue to twist words and make up lies.

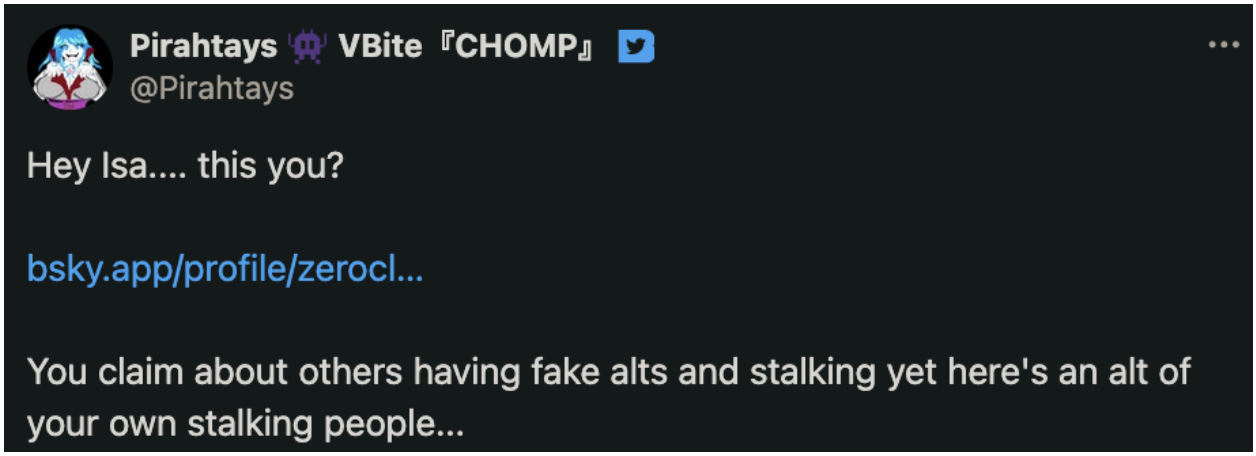

It was claimed by Isa that they were accused of posting and harassing with an alt account:

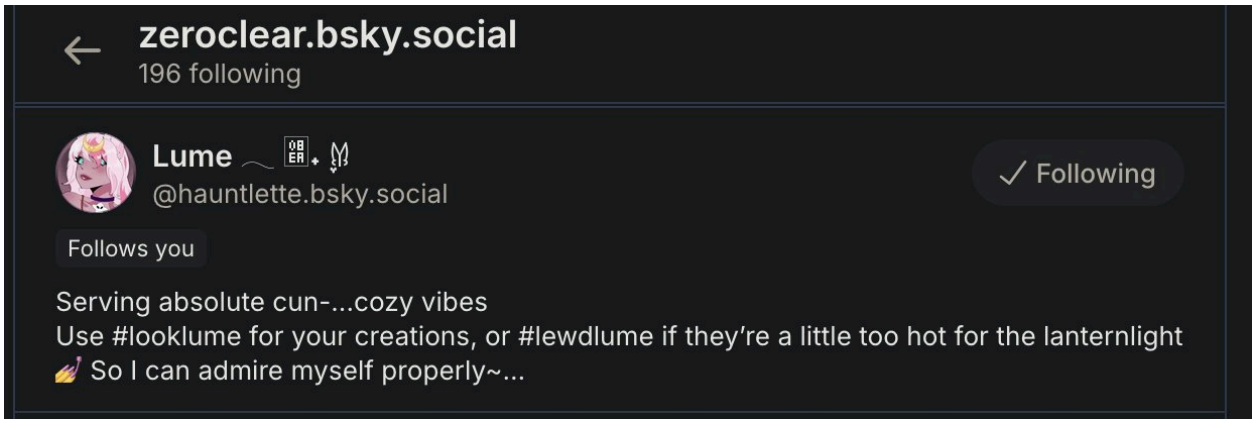

https://x.com/Isa_h_quetzal/status/2113757338666451052

To my knowledge, Isa was not accused of posting things to harass people. Not only is this statement they've made untrue, the logs prove nothing. They only show that Isa has not followed anyone or posted anything during a certain timeframe with that account. It does show that Isa has deleted posts from their timeline since the account seems to not show any posts now and the logs do.

The logs shown do not provide evidence against using the account to aggregate and read a feed from people they had already followed in the past, which was what they were actually accused of. This is shown here since they were following Lume and many others they had issues with using that account:

Additionally it was mentioned that:
I remember pirah showed me their was a way to investigate when somekne last used blueskye (meaning she knew how to look it up (sic)
https://x.com/Isa_h_quetzal/status/2113757298006855919

Yes, there is a way to know the last time a Bluesky or any social media account was last used publicly. Meaning when someone has posted something or done something on their timeline. I wrote some code to clear out accounts I was following that hadn't been active on bluesky and showed Isa at the time. That doesn't show the last time the user logged in or used the account to read others posts.

So given the context of Isa being accused of using this account for stalking peoples timelines, I'm not sure what the relevance of me knowing that information is. It didn't matter when the last time they posted on the account was, they were still following nearly 200 people that a large chunk of did not want to interact with Isa and had blocked them elsewhere.

Current (as of October 26, 2026)

Isa continues to attempt to manipulate people into believing “their side” when they have been proven to be lying and misconstruing facts the entire time. They have a track record of blindly telling their friends and followers to “block everyone involved”. They attempted to demand that the staff of the “Strays” post their lies and accusatory tweets in the announcements section of the server. Not only does that violate the rules (which existed even before Isa left), nobody is even concerned or discussing anything related to Isa on the server.

Despite their latest claims to the contrary, to date of writing this document Isa has not, to my knowledge, ever apologized in any way to myself or anyone involved in any of the verbal abuse, doxxing, stress, harassment or other harm done by their actions. A lot of friends tried to help them through things only to be yelled at, turned against, and have their personal lives impacted in one shape or form by doing so.

They continually have the guise of trying to help folks and community, and for some they may. But once you get to know them you find they very quickly blame others for reacting to their repeated awful behaviour and criticism of handling things, yet never take responsibility for what they’ve done to cause people to speak out, which is textbook manipulative behavior.

They have begun displaying more paranoid behavior, labeling folks as “spies”. As the post by @kampkaru has brought to light, there is a pattern of new folks that join their server, even by Isa’s invite, and then booted and accused of being a stalker.

This document will continue to serve as a record of actual verified truth of the situation with documented proof and the request that people read and make their own opinions. Even though Isa claims otherwise, this document has never been factually “altered” to hide any existing statements. It has only been added to and refined with new incidents and events to establish timeline and the patterns of Isa’s continued behavior of lies and manipulation .

All of this said, I hope that they get the help that they need and can heal and become a better person after this journey. Even with all this occurring to this day, myself and others that Isa have wronged have tried to reach out to common friends to have them do a check on them where seriously concerning behavior has occurred. While none of us agree with what they are doing, nobody wants to see anyone injure or harm themselves. But until they correct this spiral of behavior, folks need to be aware of their patterns and make their own conclusions.

- Pira 💙